HOW LONG CAN YOU SURVIVE?

Prepare an emergency kit for yourself and your family.

Due to overwhelming need elsewhere or lack of access to your neighborhood, you may be on your own for several days after a major disaster. A well-stocked kit can help you survive and be more comfortable during a major event such as earthquake, flooding, power outages, etc.

What will you need to survive for a week? Two weeks?

Storing Emergency Supplies

Layer supplies and keep them together in a container such as a sturdy plastic bin or plastic garbage can with wheels. For larger kits, you can stack bins or use two garbage cans. Rotate food, bottled water, and medications every year. Children’s clothing may need to be replace more frequently.

Keep the items you might need immediately, like a flashlight or first aid kit, on top.

Start with what you already have. If you’re a camper or backpacker, you’ve got a head start. Your cook stove, tent, and other gear can double as emergency supplies.

Think about what you literally can’t survive without. Medications? Home oxygen?Powered medical equipment? Mobility aids?

Stock essential supplies for the long haul. Even if you can obtain food and water within 3-4 days, medications or medical supplies may be unavailable for a week or more. Consider one week’s worth of essential medications and oxygen bottles as a minimum; two weeks worth is even better.

Choose a cool, dark location for storage, such as a closet or “safety corner” in the garage. If you live in an apartment or have limited space, be innovative. Other possible storage locations include under the bed, under stairways, or even in a large box or plastic tub that can be covered with a table cloth and used as an end table.
Being prepared is one more form of insurance

FOOD:
- Use canned or foil-pouch food for easy storage and long shelf life. Choose ready-to-eat meat, fruits, and vegetables that your family likes. (A disaster is not the time to try new menu items: you're under enough stress!) Keep food fresh by checking dates and rotating items every year.
- Also recommended are canned or dried juice mixes; powdered or canned milk; high energy food (peanut butter, jelly, crackers, unsalted nuts, and trail mix); cereals, and rice.
- Store foods in packaging sizes appropriate to your needs to prevent having to store leftovers.
- Don’t forget your pets. Store canned and dry pet food along with an animal carrier, extra collar and leash, medications, and a favorite toy. Check out options for boarding your pet in advance: pets are not allowed in most shelters.

WATER:
- Store one gallon per person, per day for at least three days. Don’t forget pets. Use commercially bottled water (replace each year) or tap water in clean plastic bottles (replace every six months). Store water bottles in a cool, dark place.
- Purify water by boiling it for 3-5 minutes or by adding 16 drops of household liquid bleach containing 5.25% sodium hypochlorite per gallon of water. Do not use bleach that contains added scents or cleaners. Stir and let stand for 30 minutes before using.
- Learn how to remove the water from your water heater just in case you need it. Be sure to turn off the gas or electricity to the tank before draining water for emergency use. Also, shut the intake valve, to avoid contamination.

CRITICAL DOCUMENTS:
- Keep copies of critical documents, including prescriptions, vaccination records, birth certificates, insurance policies, and passwords. Send a set to a trusted friend or relative living outside the region.

- First aid kit
- Blankets
- Battery-powered clock

GET YOUR NEIGHBORS INVOLVED:
- Working through your neighborhood or homeowners’ association, arrange to share more expensive equipment items such as chain saws, generators, and 4-wheel drive vehicles. (If there is no formal organization in your neighborhood, start with your immediate neighbors and expand from there).
- Start a “buddy squad” to check on neighbors who may require assistance during and after major events, such as extended power outages or winter storms. Don’t forget children who are home alone.
- Turn your organizing efforts into a neighborhood social event, such as a block party. (Draw them in with food, then make your presentation).
